

YACHTSMEN ON THE STAGE

Swarms of mosquitoes that were frightened away from the Government Square by the fireworks last night clamored for admission to the Opera House where the benefit performance of the Healan Yacht and Boat Club was being held. The "sketches" were very plentiful, but the vaudeville performance given by the club was so good and people were so interested that they did not mind them. The Healan folks put up a first class performance and the public should apologize to them for not sending in larger numbers. If every "smoker" of the club is as lively an event as was the imitation put on to start the performance by Messrs. I. S. Dillingham, James Dougherty, W. Herrick, H. E. Herzer, Ray Irvin, Guy Livingston, T. W. Johnston, Dave Warsaw, Ernest Warsaw, W. D. Adams, Allan Dunn, Dan Renner, McDuffie and "others who are too bashful to assume literary prominence" last night, they must be very interesting affairs.

T. W. Johnston did some clever work in whirling a baton, and "Squeer" Webster excelled as the leading character in a clever little farce, "Weather While You Wait," "perpetrated" by Allan Dunn. Messrs. David and Ernest Warsaw did some very clever work with various musical instruments, and "Warsaw, the Tramp," was about the funniest thing one could imagine of in the musical line. Messrs. Lloyd Conkling and Guy Livingston furnished another musical skit which was much appreciated. "Curing a Toothache, or the Rajah's Panacea," was a clever sketch by Messrs. J. L. Rockwell, Willie Adams and Allan Dunn. Rockwell looked the picture of a real Rajah whose eyes glittered and whose carriage was as proud as that of any Eastern monarch that ever lived. He found Adams, a stranded actor, and Dunn, a "fake" missionary, in his palace and proceeded to make matters lively for them. But all ended in some pretty foolishness and it is probable that if the club should repeat its performance at some future time there should not be so many rival attractions as a Fourth of July night provides in Honolulu the club would be rewarded with an overflowing house.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Very little powder was burned yesterday.

Wm. McKinley Lodge, K. of P., meets tonight. Work in the first rank.

The Advertiser is now delivered at College Hills and in that vicinity.

Healan and Myrtle colors were displayed quite as often and as brilliantly in Honolulu yesterday as at Pearl Harbor.

Wandering bands of musicians ushered in the Fourth long before the ordinary patriotic citizen was ready to begin the celebration.

There will be but one baseball game this afternoon, that between the Customs and Punahou, which begins at 3:30. The game between the Males and Kamehamehas has been postponed.

There were not many elaborately decorated stores in honor of the Fourth, but few indeed were the residences or business places without a United States flag on display in some shape or another.

Dr. J. E. Jones, private secretary to Senator Kerns of Utah, is a through passenger on the Hongkong Maru. He is on his wedding tour and going to Japan. United States Attorney Breckons is a friend of Dr. Jones, and entertained him while in the city.

The Neills and Frawleys have united and will open at Manila on Sept. 15th. Frawley will be leading man and manager. The trip may extend to India but on the return Honolulu will be visited. L. D. Bruckart, the advance agent, is a passenger on the Hongkong Maru.

Judge Estee's vacation is likely to be interfered with because of the unusual press of business. The Lorenzen case is still to be decided, and there are several cases which will come up Monday. It is hardly likely that the vacation will begin Monday as had been anticipated.

Scots at Moanalua.

Braw Scots and bonnie lassies spent the Fourth at the golf links on S. M. Damon's estate at Moanalua and had a jolly time from morning until evening. Between sixty and seventy people filled four busses and left town at eight. The pavilion was used to store the picnic things to eat, while the picnickers enjoyed themselves in the open, running foot races, jumping, and indulging in all kinds of games which ended with a tug-of-war. There was dancing and Scotch reels were the favorites. All missed Piper Murray and his pipes this year and had to dance their reels to the music of instruments not so melodious to their ears. Lunch was eaten in the pavilion. Mr. Damon came over to the grounds and assisted in making the day pleasant for his visitors. The return to the city was made about 6 o'clock. Chief Ray of the Scottish Thistle Club was the master of ceremonies.

The Wireless to Hilo.

Last evening the Wireless Telegraph Co. notified The Advertiser that its service was open to Hilo. This paper at once ordered a message from its agent there covering the day's events. Up to 2 a. m. nothing was heard from the company and it is to be presumed that the message, if sent through, elicited no response. If there is any truth in the story of an officer of the Aorangi that light ashes fell on the deck of that steamer 200 miles distant from Honolulu, the operations of the wireless may have been disturbed by seismic action. However, this paper puts but little credence in the Aorangi yarn, which failed of corroboration on board.

Ex-Governor of Illinois.

Ex-Gov. Beveridge of Illinois is a passenger on the Maru. He is now a resident of California residing near Los Angeles. Mr. Beveridge was elected governor of Illinois in 1873 and served for four years. He has lived in California for six years. Gov. Beveridge may go to Manila before his return which will be in November.
